LAST CALL FOR HAWAII!

Don't miss the chance to attend the American Judges Association's 2013 Annual Educational Conference on "The Big Island" of Hawaii. We are meeting September 22-27 at the luxurious Fairmont Orchid. The cut-off date for reservations is August 30 and the AJA block is close to full so make your reservations TODAY! Every year I look forward to the AJA conference, and this year is no exception. The educational sessions promise to be of great interest to judges from all jurisdiction levels, and the conference provides the perfect opportunity to talk with judges from across the United States and Canada about the concerns and problems we all face. You may meet someone who already has dealt with a situation you currently are confronting who can provide valuable insight and ideas — and also become a friend and contact. Please take a few minutes to read the conference brochure (<http://goo.gl/SklRK>), and then register as soon as possible for this great conference.
